

NINET

Marketing plan

Weaknesses

- Unique Selling Proposition (USP): By reviewing Ninet's Facebook page (assuming it showcases their work), you can identify what makes them stand out. Is it a focus on a specific style (rustic, modern, etc.)? Do they use reclaimed wood or specialize in a particular type of product (furniture, cabinets, etc.)? Highlighting this USP will attract customers looking for something special.

(you can focus on one style and show what you are standing for like “safe materials, green adoption, ETC”)

- Customer Focus: Positive reviews and comments on their Facebook page indicate they prioritize customer satisfaction. This builds trust and loyalty, encouraging repeat business and referrals.

(we have to mention them through UGC on just screenshots in a simple design)

- Feelings distribution : we have to show more the feeling that the customer will gain after the purchasing decision
- unscheduled Online Presence: more gaps and targeted content will allow more engagement and reach
- NO clear funnel: clear funnel will increase a reputation and presence, so more organic sales

Opportunities

- E-commerce: An online store would allow customers to browse and purchase products conveniently.

- Content Marketing: Creating blog posts, videos, or tutorials showcasing woodworking techniques and projects can attract new customers and establish Ninet as an authority in the field.
- Partnerships: collaborating “B2B” like café’s, décor makers and wedding planners will allow more sales and a new sales direction with customized pieces of art.
